THREE-PART SONGS.

FOR THE USE OF

THE PUPILS OF THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS OF CANADA.

SELECTED AND ARRANGED BY

HENRY FRANCIS SEFTON,

TEACHER OF MUSIC IN THE NORMAL AND MODEL SCHOOLS OF ONTARIO.

Authorized by the Council of Public Instruction of Ontario.

TORONTO:
JAMES CAMPBELL AND SON.

1869.

Entered according to Act of the Parliament of Canada, in the year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-eight, by the REVEREND EGERTON RYERSON, LL.D., Chief-Superintendent of Education for Ontario, in the Office of the Minister of Agriculture.

PREFACE.

THE chief object that has been regarded in the preparation of this little volume, has been to supply a want that has been long felt of a carefully arranged selection of Part-Songs, suitable to the circumstances of the children that usually attend the Public Schools. The tunes have been selected from the National Melodies of the British Isles: to these are added a few Canadian compositions, both the words and music being original, and the remainder are derived from foreign sources. Great care has been taken in the selection of the poetry, with a view not only to engaging the interest of the pupils, but also to producing a salutary effect on their principles and habits.

Another object that has been regarded in the preparation of this book, has been its adaptation for use as the medium of Practical illustration for the "Teacher's Manual of Vocal Music," a work at present in progress, in which it is intended to explain the Theory.

The Appendix contains a few pieces selected for the especial use of Teachers, as it was believed such an addition might be acceptable on occasions of School Concerts, &c., and would be useful in fostering a taste for the study of the works of the great masters.

HINTS TO TEACHERS.

EVERY Part-Song in this book is available as a Solo, Duet, or Trio. When the children are able to sing melody only, the first or top part may be used alone; where greater proficiency exists, the first and second parts may be sung as Duets; or the third part may be added by the male Teacher.

The teaching of a tune should invariably be accompanied by the beating of its time. Three modes of beating are sufficient for every description of time. The down-up beats represent all equal or simple common times, $\frac{2}{4}$ $\frac{4}{4}$ or C &c.; as also their compounds, $6 \div 2$, as $\frac{6}{4}$ $\frac{6}{8}$ &c., although, frequently, four beats, down-left-right-up, are more convenient for $\frac{4}{4}$ or C time; three beats, down-right-up, are equal to all simple triple times, as $\frac{3}{2}$ $\frac{3}{4}$ $\frac{3}{8}$ &c., or their compounds, $9 \div 3$, as $\frac{9}{4}$ $\frac{9}{8}$ &c.

Avoid a slow, dragging style of singing. It is better to err in the opposite direction.

Strictly observe the correct accent, both in the words and in the music.

By playing the bottom parts of the Harmonies an octave lower than they are written, the arrangement will be correct for the Pianoforte or the Harmonium.

THREE-PART SONGS.

WE WILL NOT TALK OF OLD TIMES.

Allto. f

We will not talk of old times, When we were blithe and gay, And met to hear the even - ing chimes, And laugh the hours a - p way. Old times we al - ways mourn, But mourn their loss in vain, Old ff times, old times, whi - ther, whi - ther are ye gone? Ne'er to come a - gain.

But we will talk of new times,
 Times present and to come;
 Of happy hours in sunny bowers,
 And joyful days at home.
 The present let's enjoy,
 Though we regret the past;
 New times, new times, cheerfully the
 minutes fly,
 May they always last.

Some e'en complain of hard times,
 And never are at ease;
 With such you reason all in vain,
 In vain you try to please.
 All times we may enjoy,
 If we are so inclined;
 All times, all times, pleasantly the
 minutes fly,
 To an equal mind.

Cold! Cold! winds may roar, winds may loud - ly loud - ly roar; Trees all brown and bare, Sad may wave in air, Deck'd with leaves no more, Deck'd with leaves no more.

Spirits firm and bold
 Fear not storms or cold,
 Fear not ice or snow;
 Fiercely through the gale
 Drift the snow and hail,
 Hearts may warmly glow.

When in school we meet,
 Looks of welcome greet,
 Sent from smiling eyes;
 When our teacher dear
 Gives us words of cheer,
 Sent from smiling eyes.

Come, then, rain or hail!
 Come, then, storm or gale!
 Glad to school we'll go;
 Spirits firm and bold
 Shrink not from the cold,
 Fear not ice or snow.

PROVIDENCE.

Andante grazioso.

H. F. S.

mf He who made the stars on high, p Rules su-preme o'er earth and sky;

Child of dust! your hom-age bring, And grate-ful prais-es sing.

He who marks a sparrow's fall,
Looks with tenderness on all;
Child of woe! then cease to weep,
His mercy cannot sleep.

Though our life is but a span,
Endless is the soul of man;
Child of hope! then look above,
And trust a God of love.

REST.

Mists are ris-ing slow-ly, Earth her in-crease yields;

p Si-lence calm and ho-ly, cres. Reigns o'er woods and fields.

But while all is sleeping,
Still the brook flows on;
Onward wildly sweeping,
Goes that restless one.

Him the rustling willow
Cannot soothe to rest;
He must seek a pillow
On the ocean's breast.

So when we have striven
On and on through life,
We may find in heaven,
Rest from that long strife.

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT.

Andantino, mf

Oft in the stil - ly night, Ere slum-ber's chain has bound me,

Fond mem - 'ry brings the light Of o - ther days a - round me; The smiles, the tears of childhood's years, The words of love then spok-en, The eyes that shone now dimm'd and gone, The cheer ful hearts now brok - en. Thus in the stil - ly night, Ere slum-ber's chain has bound me, Sad mem - 'ry brings the light Of o - ther days a - round me.

OFT IN THE STILLY NIGHT—continued.

When I remember all
The friends so link'd together,
I've seen around me fall
Like leaves in wintry weather ;
I feel like one who treads alone
Some banquet-hall deserted,

Whose lights are fled, whose garlands
And all but me departed ; [dead,
Thus in the stilly night,
Ere slumber's chain has bound me,
Sad mem'ry brings the light
Of other days around me.

EVENING.

Allegretto. mf

Lit - tle girl, it is time to re - tire to your rest; The sheep are put in - to the fold; The lin - net for - sakes us, and flies to her nest, To shel - ter her young from the cold.

The owl has flown out of his lonely retreat,
And screams through the tall shady trees ;
The nightingale takes on the hawthorn her seat,
And sings to the soft dying breeze.

The sun appears now to have finish'd his race,
And sinks once again to its rest ;
But though we no longer can see his bright face,
He leaves a gold streak in the west.

Little girl (boy), have you finish'd your daily employ,
With industry, patience, and care ?
If so, lay your head on your pillow with joy,
And sleep away peacefully there.

The morn through your curtains shall cheerfully peep,
Her silver beams rest on your eyes ;
And mild evening breezes shall fan you to sleep,
Till bright morning bids you arise.

Repeat in Chorus ff

Right loyally we're singing,
To all nations make it known,
That we love the land we live in,
And our Queen upon her throne.

Long may the sons of Canada
Continue as they've been,
True to their native country,
And faithful to their Queen.

THE WORM.

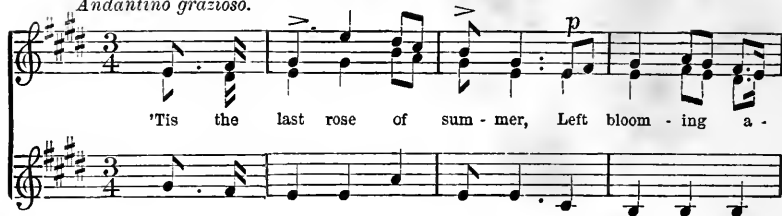

The common Lord of all that move,
From whom thy being flow'd,
A portion of His boundless love
On that poor worm bestow'd.
The sun, the moon, the stars He made
To all His creatures free;

And spreads o'er earth the grassy blade
For worms as well as thee.
Let them enjoy their little day,
Their lowly bliss receive;
Oh, do not lightly take away
The life thou canst not give.

THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER.

Andantino grazioso.

'Tis the last rose of summer, Left bloom - ing a - lone, All her love - ly com - pan - ions Are fad - ed and gone; No flower of her kin - dred, No rose - bud is nigh; To re - flect back her blush - es, Or give sigh for sigh.

I'll not leave thee, thou lone one,
To pine on the stem;
Since the lovely are sleeping,
Go sleep thou with them:
Thus kindly I scatter
Thy leaves o'er the bed
Where thy mates of the garden
Lie scentless and dead.

So soon may I follow,
When friendships decay,
And from love's shining circle
The gems drop away!
When true hearts lie wither'd,
And fond ones are flown,
Oh! who would inhabit,
This bleak world alone!

EMPLOYMENT.

H. F. S.

Allegretto.

How plea-sant it is, at the close of the day, No fol-lies to have to re-pent, But re-flect on the past, and be a-ble to say, My time has been pro-per-ly spent! When I've fin-ish'd my busi-ness with pa-tience and care, And been good, and ob-lig-ing, and kind, I lie on my pil-low, and sleep a-way there, With a hap-py and peace-a-ble mind.

Instead of all this, if it must be confess'd
That I careless and idle have been,
I lie down as usual and go to my rest,
But feel discontented within ;

Then as I dislike all the trouble I've had,
In future I'll try to prevent it, [sad,
For I never am wayward without being
Or good without being contented.

A SCHOOL PRAYER.

Andante.

Heavenly Fa - ther, bless the hours, That we pass in use - ful learn - ing, Sanc - ti - fy our men - tal powers, All our thoughts to wis - dom turn - ing.

Give us light to guide our way,
While thy word is spread before us;
May we ne'er in error stray,
May thy Spirit hover o'er us.

May no idle, ill-spent days
Bow our parents' heads with sadness;
May our honest, well-earn'd praise
Fill their grateful hearts with gladness.

THE CRUST OF BREAD.

H. F. S.

I must not throw up - on the floor The crust I can - not eat, For ma - ny lit - tle hun - gry ones Would think it quite a treat.

My parents labor very hard
To get me wholesome food;
Then I must never waste a bit
That would do others good.

For wilful waste makes woeful want,
And I may live to say,
"Oh! how I wish I had the bread
That once I threw away!"

THE BEE AND DRONE.*

Lento. The DRONE—despondingly, and slow.

Oh! dear me, these tire-some les-sons, I shall nev-er know them well; All day long what pains and trou-ble I must take to learn to spell!

The BEE—cheerfully, and fast.

I have fin-ish'd all my les-sons! Gram-mar, writ-ing, sums and all.

Hur-rah! I have just ten min-utes, For a cheer-ful game at ball!

The Drone.

Though the morning school is over,
Here I sit alone and cry;
I can't learn this nasty lesson,
What a wretched boy am I!

The Bee.

Now the morning school is over,
To the sunny fields I fly;
School, how pleasant; play delightful;
What a happy boy am I!

* Divide the Class, Division, or School in two parts, the one part taking the Drone, the other the Bee. The part of the Drone to be sung slowly and despondingly, imitating crying; the Bee, on the other hand, quickly and cheerfully.

O HOW PLEASANT TO BE ROAMING.

(ROUND FOR THREE VOICES.)

Allegro.

O how plea-sant to be roam-ing,

When the sum-mer flowers are bloom-ing,

In the wood-land and the glen.

THE LITTLE BIRD.*

Andantino grazioso.

First system of musical notation. The key signature has two flats (Bb and Eb). The time signature is 2/4 or 1/2 or 8/8. The melody is on a treble clef staff, and the accompaniment is on a bass clef staff. The lyrics are: "Come, tell me now, sweet lit - tle bird, Who deck'd thy wings with Third system of musical notation. The melody continues on the treble clef staff, and the accompaniment continues on the bass clef staff. The lyrics are: "fold? Who taught thee such en - chant - ing power, To soothe the ach - ing

Fourth system of musical notation. The melody continues on the treble clef staff, and the accompaniment continues on the bass clef staff. The lyrics are: "heart, And with thy note of har - mo - ny, To mock the reach of art?"

Reply.

My wings with gold by Him were tinged
Who framed the golden spheres;
He gave me form, who works unchanged
Amidst the change of years;
He taught me song, who heaven's own lyre
Has strung to sound His praise;
Who gave the seraph words of fire,
And thee, still warmer lays.

Interrogation.

Thou fly'st away! who bade thee soar?
Who bade thee seek the sky,
And wander through yon silver cloud,
A speck to mortal eye?
Oh! had I but thy wings, sweet bird!
I'd mount where angels be,
And leave behind this world of sin,
A little thing like thee!

* This three-part Song may be made interesting by dividing the Class, Division, or School in two parts, each singing alternately the interrogations and replies.

Reply.

He bade me fly who taught thy soul
To shoot through time and space,
And bound o'er all the orbs that roll,
To meet the Sun of grace.

Still seek that Sun, and thou shalt mount
Beyond my utmost flight;
And sport and bask thee at the fount
Of pure ethereal light.

THE VIOLET.

Allegretto vivace.

Down in a green and shad - y bed, A mo - dest vio - let grew; Its stalk was bent, it hung its head, As if to hide from view, And yet it was a love - ly flower, Its co - lours bright and fair, It might have graced a ros - y bower, In - stead of hid - ing there.

Yet there it was content to bloom,
In modest tints array'd;
And there diffused a sweet perfume
Within its silent shade.

Then let me to the valley go,
This pretty flower to see,
That I may also learn to grow
In sweet humility.

SHELLS OF OCEAN.

Andante.

One sum - mer eve, with pen-sive thought, I wan-der'd on the sea - beat shore, Where oft in heed - less in - fant sport, I ga-ther'd shells in days be - fore, I ga-ther'd shells in days be - fore, The plash-ing waves like mu - sic fell, Re - spon - sive to my fan - cy wild, A dream came o'er me like a spell, I thought I was a - gain a child, A dream came o'er me like a spell, I thought I was a - gain, a - gain a child.

I stood upon the pebbly strand,
To cull the toys that round me lay;
And as I took them in my hand,
I threw them one by one away:

O thus I said, In every stage,
By toys our fancy is beguiled,
We gather shells from youth to age,
And then we leave them like a child.

MY HANDS, HOW NICELY ARE THEY MADE.

H. F. S.

Allegretto. mf

My hands, how nice - ly are they made, To hold, and touch, and do; I'll try to learn some hon - est trade, That will be use - ful too; My eyes, how fit they are to read, To mind my work and look; I ought to think of that, in - deed, And use them at my book.

My tongue, 'twas surely never meant
To quarrel or to swear;
To speak the truth my tongue was sent,
And also given for prayer.

My thoughts,—for what can they be given?
For thinking—to be sure;
That I may think of God and heaven,
And learn my faults to cure.

THE SWISS SONG OF HOME.

Allegretto agitato.

Why, ah! why, my heart, this sad ness? Where mid scenes like these de - cline, Where all, though strange, is joy and glad - ness? Oh!
say, what wish can yet be thine? Oh! say, what wish can yet be thine?

All that's dear to me is wanting,
Lone and cheerless here I roam;
For strangers' joys, howe'er enchanting,
Can never be to me like home.

Give me these, I ask no other,
Those that bless the humble dome,
Where dwells my father and my mother—
Oh! give me back my native home.

GO LEARN OF THE ANT.

(ROUND FOR THREE VOICES.)

1 Go learn of the ant to be pru - dent and wise;
2 In sum - mer she stores a - gainst win - try skies.
3 Re - mem - her in plen - ty that want may a - rise.

THE PILOT.

Andante. mf

Oh! Pi - lot, 'tis a fear - ful night, There's dan - ger on the deep, I'll come and pace the deck with thee, I do not dare to sleep. "Go down," the sail - or cried, "go down, This is no place for thee; Fear not, but trust in Pro - vidence, Wher - ev - er you may be."

Oh! Pilot, dangers, often met,
 We all are apt to slight,
 And thou hast known the raging seas,
 But to subdue their might;
 "It is not apathy," he said,
 "Which gives this strength to me;
 Fear not, but trust in Providence,
 Wherever you may be.

"On such a night the sea engulf'd
 My father's lifeless form;
 My only brother's boat went down
 In just so wild a storm:
 And such perhaps may be my fate;
 Yet still I say to thee,
 Fear not, but trust in Providence,
 Wherever you may be."

A GENTLE WORD.

Andantino grazioso.

H. P. S.

p

A gen - tle word, it falls like balm Up - on the wea - ry

p

heart; And calms the ag - o - ny with - in, With more than ma - gic art.

A gentle word,—it hath the power
To win the erring back;
Though they have wander'd far away
From virtue's beaten track.

A gentle word!—Oh, give to all
Sweet gentle words of love;
For they shall all return to thee,
From God's own lips above.

THE ROSE'S AGE.

(ROUND FOR FOUR VOICES.)

1 The ro - se's age is but a day, 2

2 Its bloom the pledge of its de - cay; 3

3 Sweet is its scent, its co - lours bright, 4

4 It blows at morn, and fades at night. 1

ON THE WATER.

Smoothly. f

Where the sil - ver moon-beams qui - ver, Soft - ly glides our lit - tle boat,

As up - on the tran-qui - lity riv - er Down the stream we id - ly float ; Well it suits the even - ing hour, Here to pass in scenes so fair, And let beau - ty's sooth - ing pow - er Ba - nish thoughts of toil and care, Ba - nish thoughts of toil and care.

At this hour, when all is resting,
Calm and silence on us steal ;
Hush'd is laughter now, and jesting,
All the solemn influence feel.
Thoughts of bygone days come o'er us,
Sorrows link'd with mem'ries bright,
Like the stream that flows before us,
Now in shade, and now in light.

But if thinking turn to sadness,
We will chase it with a song ;
Only thoughts of peace and gladness
To an hour like this belong.
Sing, and let your voices blending
With the water, soft and low,
Up to heaven's blue vault ascending,
Wake the echoes as we go.

THE BEGGAR GIRL.

Slowly, and with feeling.

O - ver the moun - tain and o - ver the moor, Hun - gry and bare-foot I wan - der for - lorn; My fa - ther is dead, and my mo - ther is poor,

And she weeps for the days that will nev - er re - turn. p Pi - ty, kind gen - tle - folks, friends of hu - ma - ni - ty, f Keen blows the winds, and the night's com - ing on! Give me some food for my mo - ther, for cha - ri - ty, Give me some food, and then I will be - gone. slow.

THE BEGGAR GIRL—continued.

Call me not lazy - back, idle and bold enough,
Fain would I learn both to knit and to sew ;

The two little brothers at home, when they're old enough,
They shall work hard for the gifts you bestow.

Pity, kind gentlefolks, &c.

Think, while you revel at home at your leisure,

Secure from the wind, and well clothed
and fed,

If fortune should fail, how hard it would be

To beg at the door for a morsel of bread !

Pity, kind gentlefolks, &c.

THE SEA IS ENGLAND'S GLORY.

H. F. S.

The sea is England's splendour,
Her wealth the mighty main ;
She is the world's defender,
The feeble to sustain ;
Her gallant sons, in story,
Shine bravest of the brave ;
Oh ! England's strength and glory
Are on her ocean wave !

Thou loveliest land of beauty,
Where dwells domestic worth,
Where loyalty and duty
Entwine each heart and hearth ;

SONG FOR PEACE.

Lord God of Sa - ba - eth, King, who or - dain - eth,

Great winds Thy clar - ions, the light - ning Thy sword; Show forth Thy pit - y on high, where Thou reign - est, Give to us peace in our time, O Lord.

The musical score is written in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time, with a key signature change to C major (no sharps or flats) for the second system. It features a melody line and a bass line. Dynamics include f (forte) and p (piano).

God the omnipotent, sin's sure avenger,
Watching invisible, moving unheard;
Leave us not now in the hour of our danger,
Give to us peace in our time, O Lord.

God the all-merciful, earth has forsaken Thy ways of blessedness, slighted Thy word;
Bid not thy wrath in its terrors awaken,
Give to us peace in our time, O Lord.

THE POOR BLIND BOY.

The musical score is written in G major (one sharp) and 4/4 time. It features a melody line and a bass line. The tempo is marked Moderate and the dynamic is mf (mezzo-forte).

THE POOR BLIND BOY—continued.

You talk of wondrous things you see,
You say the sun shines bright,
I feel him warm, but how can he
Or make it day and night?

My day or night myself I make,
Whene'er I sleep or play;
And could I ever keep awake,
With me 'twere always day.

Then let not what I cannot have,
My cheer of mind destroy;
While thus I sing, I am a king,
Although a poor blind boy.

THE VOLUNTEERS.

Firmly, in quick marching time.

The musical score for 'The Volunteers' is written for a single melodic line on a treble clef staff. The key signature is one sharp (F#), and the time signature is 2/4, with alternative notations for 1/2 and 4/8. The score begins with a forte (f) dynamic. The lyrics are written below the staff, with some words split across lines. The score includes various musical notations such as eighth and sixteenth notes, rests, and repeat signs. Dynamics include forte (f), piano (pp), and fortissimo (ff). The score concludes with a double bar line.

Come, shoul-der your ri-fles, And up and on your way, 'Tis time we were off To our prac-tis-ing to-day. For hark! boys, hark! the bug-le's call sounds clear, And sum-mons to his work each trust-y Vol-un-teer.

Your hand must be steady,
For true must be your aim,
And keen be your glance,
As the hunter for his game;
So lightly tread, for nimble as the deer,
And firm as rooted oak must be the Volunteer.

We talk not of glory—
Be that the foeman's boast;
Not always they win her
Who talk of her the most:
But duty calls, each man the summons hears,
Our coasts are guarded by our gallant Volunteers.

And it sleeps on the mossy sward,
And the merry song of the warbling throng
Gives a welcome as on we go;
Where the walnut trees wave in the breeze,
And the broad elms cast their shade,
And the harebells nod o'er the verdant sod,
That carpets the forest glade.

We go, we go where the flowers grow,
To the woods, and dells, and streams,
In the early morn, when the day is born,
'Mid the dawn's reviving beams;
In the sunset hour, when the tree and flower
Are bathed in their loveliest hues;
In the silver light of the soft twilight,
When cool are the evening dews.

ROBIN REDBREAST.

Allegretto vivace. mf

Bright yellow, red and orange,
The leaves come down in hosts;
The trees are Indian princes,
But soon they'll turn to ghosts;
The leathery pears and apples
Hang russet on the bough;
It's autumn, autumn, autumn late,
'Twill soon be winter now.
Robin, Robin Redbreast,
O Robin dear!
And what will this poor Robin do?
For pinching days are near.

The fireside for the cricket,
The wheat-stack for the mouse,
When trembling night-winds whistle,
And moan all round the house.
The frosty ways like iron,
The branches plumed with snow;
Alas! in winter dead and dark,
Where can poor Robin go?
Robin, Robin Redbreast,
O Robin dear!
A crumb of bread for Robin,
His little heart to cheer.

TO A BUTTERFLY.

H. F. S.

Why should my tyrant will suspend
 A life by wisdom given;
 Or sooner bid thy being end,
 Than was ordain'd by Heaven?
 Lost to the joy that reason knows,
 Thy bosom, fair and frail,
 Loves but to wander where the rose
 Perfumes the pleasant gale.

To bask upon the sunny bed,
 The damask flower to kiss;
 To rove along the bending shade,
 Is all thy little bliss.
 Then flutter still thy silken wings
 In rich embroidery dress'd;
 And sport upon the gale that flings
 Sweet odours from his vest.

Be kind to thy mother, for lo! on her brow
 May traces of sorrow be seen;
 Oh! well may'st thou cherish and comfort
 her now,
 For loving and kind hath she been.
 Remember thy mother, for thee will she pray,
 As long as God giveth her breath;
 With accents of kindness, then, cheer her lone way,
 Even to the dark valley of death.
 Be kind to thy brother, his heart will have dearth,
 If the smile of thy joy be withdrawn;
 The flowers of feeling will fade at their birth,
 If the dew of affection be gone.

Be kind to thy brother; wherever you are,
 The love of a brother shall be
 An ornament purer and richer by far
 Than pearls from the depth of the sea.
 Be kind to thy sister, not many may know
 The depth of true sisterly love;
 The wealth of the ocean lies fathoms below
 The surface that sparkles above.
 Be kind to thy father, once fearless and bold;
 Be kind to thy mother so dear;
 Be kind to thy brother, nor show thy heart
 cold;
 Be kind to thy sister so dear.

The sun rises high and shines warm o'er the dale,
 The orchards with blossoms are white;
 The voice of the woodlark is heard in the vale,
 And the cuckoo returns from her flight.

Young lambs sport and frisk on the side of the hill,
 The honey-bee wakes from her sleep;
 The turtle-dove opens her soft cooing bill,
 And the snowdrops and primroses peep.

All nature looks active, delightful, and gay;
 The creatures begin their employ:
 Ah! let me not be less industrious than they,
 An idle, and indolent boy.

Now, while in the spring of my vigor and bloom,
 In the paths of fair learning I'll run;
 Nor let the best part of my being consume,
 With nothing of consequence done.

Thus, if to my lessons with care I attend,
 And store up the knowledge I gain;
 When the winter of age shall upon me descend,
 'Twill cheer the dark season of pain.

MAY IS HERE.

Moderato. f

May is here! the world re-joic-es; Earth puts on her smiles to greet her; Grove and field lift up their voic-es; Leaf and flower come forth to meet her. Hap-py May! blithe-some May! Win-ter's reign has pass'd a-way.

p

Hap-py May! blithe-some May! Win-ter's reign has pass'd a-way.

Birds through ev'ry thicket calling,
Wake the woods to sounds of gladness:
Hark! the long-drawn notes are falling,
Sad, but pleasant in their sadness.
Happy May! blithesome May!
Winter's reign has pass'd away.

Earth to heaven lifts up her voices;
Sky, and field, and wood, and river:
With their heart our heart rejoices;
For His gifts we praise the Giver.
Happy May! blithesome May!
Winter's reign has pass'd away.

AUTUMN.

Slowly. f

Win - ter time is draw - ing near, And my heart is sink - ing;

Youth and life must dis - ap - pear, From the cold blast shrink - ing;

Woods must lose their leaf - y crown, Fields put on their coats of brown:

Ah! how sad is part - ing! Ah! how sad is part - ing!

Summer birds have sung their last,
From our cold land flying;
Summer skies are overcast,
Shrilly winds are sighing;
Not a butterfly is seen,
Humming-bee nor beetle sheen:
Ah, how sad is parting!

Yes! we bid you all good-bye,
Birds, and bees, and flowers;
Summer breezes, summer sky,
Happy summer hours.
Hear you not the Autumn gale,
Saying, with its mournful wail,
Sad, ah sad, is parting!

Awake thee, little sleeper,
And view the glorious sun,
His circuit through the heaven
Already is begun;
He look'd in at the window,
To find thee sleeping still,

Then hasten'd on his journey,
Far over vale and hill;
Behold him as he speedeth
Upon his onward way,
For never once he pauseth
Till evening's closing ray.

So shall thy rest be glorious,
When life has pass'd away.

Her buds and her blossoms unfold to the light.
The sweet breath of violets comes on the breeze!
How busy the rooks seem among the tall trees!
Yes, winter is over, I hear the birds sing,
We'll join in the chorus, and greet thee, O Spring!

VACATION SONG.

Joyfully. f

Now school and tasks are o - ver, The ho - li - days have come, And ev - 'ry boy a ro - ver, Can seek his friends and home.

We'll rove the woods at even - ing, Or by the glad sea shore,

When waves are proud - ly heav - ing, We'll pull the spring - ing oar.

With sports and harmless funning,
Through each long summer day,
In boating, leaping, running,
We'll laugh, and sing, and play;
Still all we've learnt we'll treasure,
And seek to make it more,
For knowledge adds to pleasure,
And truth's a precious store.
CHORUS—Still all we've learnt, &c.

How well to know the reason
Of all we see around,
The change of time and season,
And treasures of the ground;
To trace on land and ocean
The work of nature's laws,
And find in rest and motion
The same Eternal Cause.
CHORUS—To trace on land, &c.

WINTER.

Moderato. f

O Win - ter time, O Win - ter time, Have we no song to praise thee? The charms of Sum - mer and of Spring, And Au-tumn's prais-es, too, we sing; O Win - ter time, cold Win - ter time, A cho - rus we will raise thee!

We cannot praise thy short dark days;
What hast thou to endear thee?
Thy mantle is the mist and snow,
Thy voice we hear when tempests blow,
But strong and bold, though stern and cold;
We love thee while we fear thee.

And oh, how bright the Winter night,
When stars their watch are keeping!
Where countless myriads gem the sky,
Orion waves his sword on high,
And through the night, so still and bright,
He wakes when all are sleeping!

Then Winter time brings Christmas time,
With many a household meeting;
From school the merry urchin comes,
And sunny looks light up our homes;
O Christmas time, most blessed time,
For all thou hast a greeting.

THE WIND AND THE SQUIRREL—continued.

WIND—Though one little door you close,
I'll find a dozen in your tree ;
Sir Nimble Frisker, don't suppose
That you can keep out one like me.
Frisker door and windows barr'd,
Above, below, before, behind :

Sir Wilful Wind he bluster'd hard,
But not a cranny could he find ;
Then a savage shriek he gave :
In his house so safely shut,
Frisker scarcely heard him rave,
But sat in peace and crack'd a nut.

THERE'S NOUGHT THAT CONTINUES UNCHANGING.

bloom and then wi - ther a - way, Just bloom and then wi - ther a - way.

Thus joyfully sitting together,
United in friendship and glee,
We gladden the hearts of each other :
Oh ! thus that it ever might be !
But should we be far from each other,
Our hearts can be sever'd by none ;

And all—yes, we all will be thankful
When blessings are granted to one.
And if, during life's weary journey,
Again we should happen to meet,
Then shall this, our joyful beginning,
Be closed by an ending as sweet.

THE NORTH WIND DOTHS BLOW.

Moderato. mf p

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow, And what will the Ro - bin do then, poor thing? He'll sit in a barn, And keep him - self warm, And hide his head un - der his wing, poor thing

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow,
 And what will the swallow do then, poor thing?

Oh! do you not know?

He's gone, long ago,

To a country much warmer than ours, poor thing.

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow,
 And what will the honey-bee do, poor thing?

In his hive he will stay

Till the cold's pass'd away,

And then he'll come out in the spring, poor thing.

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow,
 And what will the dormouse do then, poor thing?

Roll'd up like a ball,

In his nest snug and small,

He'll sleep till warm weather comes back, poor thing.

The north wind doth blow, and we shall have snow,
 And what will the children do then, poor things?

When lessons are done,

They'll jump, skip, and run,

And play till they make themselves warm, poor things.

The fox is off to his den, O! den, O!
Oh, John, &c.

John went up to the top of the hill,
And blew a blast both loud and shrill;

Says the fox, &c.

At last the fox got to his den,
To his dear little foxes, eight, nine, ten;
Says he, "By good luck there's a good fat
duck,
With its legs hanging dangling down, O!

With its legs, &c.

He sat down to dinner with his hungry wife,
They did very well without fork or knife;
They never ate a better duck all their life,
And the little ones pick'd the bones, O! bones, O! bones, O!

THE WISH.

High o'er the mountain's crest,
Where the last sunbeams rest,
At close of day;
Had I but wings to soar
Where the sun sets no more,
I would away.
Or when the stars at night,
Spangle the sky with light,
I would be there;

Join then my hymn of love
With that bright choir above,
Floating in air.
But, ah! I cannot rise,
Like a bird, through the skies,
I cannot fly;
Only my heart can spring,
Only my thoughts take wing,
To God on high.

MY NATIVE LAND.

For the bless-ings that sur-round me, Thanks to thee, my na-tive land! Strong-er love than ev-er bound me, Vow I thee, with heart and hand. Not with words and not with sing-ing On-ly, will I thank-ful be; But with deeds will I be bring-ing, In thy need, my thanks to thee.

As in joy, so yet in sorrow,
 Still I say to friend and foe,
 Let us all, to-day, to-morrow,
 By her stand in weal and woe!
 For the blessings that surround me,
 Thanks to thee, my native land!
 Stronger love than ever bound me,
 Vow I thee, with heart and hand.

Now you are come, all my grief is re-moved Let me for-get that so long you

Do you remember the path where we met,
Long, long ago, long, long ago?

Ah! yes; you told me you ne'er would forget,

Long, long ago, long ago.

Then to all others my smile you prefer'd ;
Love when you spoke gave a charm to each
word ;

Still my heart treasures the praises I heard,
Long, long ago, long ago.

Though by your kindness my fond hopes were raised,

Long, long ago, long, long ago ;

You by more eloquent lips have been
Long, long ago, long ago ; [praised,
But by long absence your truth has been tried,

Still to your accents I listen with pride,
Blest as I was when I sat by your side,
Long, long ago, long ago.

DEFENCE, AND NOT DEFIANCE.

Our ships of war are clad in steel,
And arm'd with weapons strong,
Can brave at sea each trying gale,
And haste like birds along;
But never shall their guns be heard,
Unless in honor's cause,
When call'd our sea-girt land to guard,
Or vindicate our laws.

CHORUS—Though arm'd, &c.

When ploughshares men from swords will
And pruning-hooks from spears.

THE MODEL * SCHOOL.

SECOND ARRANGEMENT.

Let others sing of fancied bliss,
Of pleasures that endear,
The joys of that, the sweets of this,
Or wail for woes they fear;
I'll sing the hours of sweet content,
Of innocence and toys,
When to the Model School I went,
With other girls and boys.
'Tis a happy theme, like a golden dream
Its mem'ry seems to be,
And I'll sing so long as I've voice
or tongue,
The Model School for me.

Together we our whole lives long
Would spend in gladness here;

The gladdening smile, the cheerful song,
To us are ever dear.
Then deeper, deeper will we toil
In the mines of knowledge,
And nature's wealth and learning's spoil
We'll win from school and college.
'Tis a happy theme, &c.

As streams are ever gliding,
As shadows quickly fly,
As time its course is guiding,
Our hours for study by;
Oh! let our steps be hasten'd
From every evil way,
And let our joys be chasten'd
By pure religion's sway.
'Tis a happy theme, &c.

night: Thro' the dark-ness be Thou near me, Watch my sleep till morn-ing light.

All this day Thy hand has led me,
And I thank Thee for Thy care;
Thou hast clothed me, warm'd, and fed me,
Listen to my evening prayer.

Let my sins be all forgiven,
Bless the friends I love so well;
Take me when I die to heaven,
Happy there with Thee to dwell.

THE ALPINE SHEPHERD—continued.

I gaze on the hamlets,
Close cluster'd beneath;
Then turn, those pure breezes
More gladly to breathe;
Nor vain noise or sorrow
Here ever come nigh;
To gay mountain ditties
I tune my schal mei;
Nor vain noise or sorrow
Here ever come nigh.

And though wintry rigors
To vales drive me down;
I know for a season
Hath summer but flown;
Once more comes the summer,
I seek thy free heights,
Dear Alpland, my heart's home,
My world of delights—
Dear Alpland, my heart's home,
My world of delights.

There was one lit - tle Jim, 'Tis re - port - ed of him, And 'twill be to his last - ing dis - grace, That he nev - er was seen With hands at all clean, Nor ev - er yet wash'd was his face.

His friends were much hurt
To see so much dirt,
And often they made him quite clean;
But all was in vain,
He was dirty again,
And never was fit to be seen.
When to wash he was sent,
Never gladly he went,
With water he'd splash himself o'er;

But he seldom was seen
To wash himself clean,
And often look'd worse than before.
The idle and bad,
Like this little lad,
May be dirty and black to be sure;
But good boys are seen
To be decent and clean,
Although they are ever so poor.

The musical notation consists of two staves. The first staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one sharp (F#), and a common time signature (C). It contains a melody with a forte (ff) dynamic marking. The second staff continues the melody, also in treble clef and one sharp key signature.

Louder swell the joyful anthems for the angel throng,
Over hill and dale the strains enchanted float;
See the wond'ring shepherds listening to the song,
Trembling, yet rejoicing at the sight.

CHORUS—"Glory to God in the highest," &c.

O the joyful, joyful tidings! for to you is born,
Christ, the wondrous Saviour, and the mighty King;
Hail, ye waiting nations! hail the happy morn,
Joyful tidings now to you I bring.

The musical notation is for a three-part round in G major (one sharp) and 3/4 time. It features three staves, each with a vocal line. The first staff is labeled '1', the second '2', and the third '3'. The lyrics are written below the staves, with some words split across lines. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and bar lines.

Yet it was not that Nature had shed o'er the scene,
 Her purest of crystal, and brightest of green;
 'Twas not the soft magic of streamlet or hill;
 Oh! no—it was something more exquisite still.
 'Twas that friends, the beloved of my bosom, was near,
 Who made ev'ry dear scene of enchantment more dear;
 And who felt how the best charms of Nature improve,
 When we see them reflected from looks that we love.
 Sweet vale of Avoca! how calm could I rest
 In thy bosom of shade, with the friends I love best,
 Where the storms which we feel in this cold world would cease,
 And our hearts, like thy waters, be mingled in peace!

* "The Meeting of the Waters" forms a part of that beautiful scenery which lies between Rathdrum and Arklow, in the county of Wicklow, and these lines were suggested to the poet by a visit to this romantic spot in the year 1807.

Row! row! sing as we go!
 Nature rejoices;
 Hark! how the hills, as we flow,
 Echo our voices!
 Still o'er the dark waters
 Far away we must roam,
 Ere Canada's daughters
 Welcome us home.
 Row! row! homeward we go,
 Twilight falls o'er us;
 Row! row! sing as we flow,
 Day flies before us.
 Row! row! see, in the west,
 Lights dimly burning,

Friends in yon harbour of rest
 Wait our returning.
 See! now they burn clearer;
 Keep time with the oar;
 Now, now we are nearer
 Our happy shore!
 Home, home, daylight is o'er,
 Friends stand before us;
 Yet, ere our boat touch the shore,
 Once more the chorus:
 Row! row! homeward we steer,
 Twilight falls o'er us;
 Hark! hark! music is near,
 Friends glide before us.

 Through all eternity,
 As far as moon and starry ray,
 Our deathless lives shall be.

Dal Segno.

Oh, the throbbing heart grows weary,
Tears of sorrow dim the eye,
As to some beloved and dear one,
Trembling lips pronounce "Goodbye."
Ours is now the sad emotion,
Ours this parting pang to feel;
And the weeping eye confesses,
What the heart would fain conceal.

Here though never more we meet thee,
Let us hope to meet above;
Truth and faith shall upward bear us
To the blessed home of love.
Let us hope to meet in heaven,
Meet 'mid joys no tongue can tell;
Teacher, friend, companion, sister,
(brother,) Till that time,—farewell! farewell!

THE HOLIDAYS.

Hurrah ! for the frosty days,
 And the stormy winds that blow
 In echoes loud, from the driving cloud,
 That sheds the Christmas snow.
 Hurrah ! for our homes, our bright, free homes,
 With all their founts of joy ;
 For the schools that tell from turret-bell,
 How we our days employ.

*(Repeat music from * for this verse.)*

Hurrah ! once more for the school-boy's lot,
 The school-girl's sunny hours ;
 And these Holidays that fill with praise,
 This happy land of ours.

CANADIAN BOAT SONG.

(GLEE FOR THREE VOICES.)

Andante.

Faint-ly as tolls the evening chime, Our voices keep tune and our oars keep time, Our voices keep tune and our oars keep time; Soon as the woods on shore look dim, We'll sing at St Ann's our part-ing hymn! Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast, The rapids are near and the day-light's past, The rapids are near and the day-light's past.

Why should we yet our sail unfurl?
There is not a breath the blue wave to curl;
But when the wind blows off the shore,
Oh! sweetly we'll rest our weary oar.
Blow, breezes, blow, the stream runs fast,
The rapids are near and the daylight's past.

Ottawa tide! this trembling moon
Shall see us float over thy surges soon.
Saint of this green isle! hear our prayer,
Grant us cool heavens and favoring air.
Blow, breezes, blow, the stream runs fast,
The rapids are near and the daylight's past.

 And look askance with bright black eyes,
 And flirt their drooping wings!
 O come ye into the summer woods, &c.
 The nodding plants, they bow'd their heads,
 As if in heartsome cheer,
 They spake unto those little things,
 'Tis merry living here!

 And how we might glean up delight,
 All round us if we would! [O come, &c.]
